Proposal 5

Cause: Report on the 2025 remuneration to directors, please review.

Description: (I) The company's policies, systems, standards, and structure for remuneration of both general and independent directors are set according to their responsibilities, risk exposure, time invested, and other relevant factors to ensure fair compensation:

1. The directors' remuneration is determined based on the company's Articles of Incorporation and the "Guidelines for Remuneration Distribution to Directors, Functional Committees, and General Manager.
2. Assessment of the correlation and reasonableness between director remuneration and performance evaluations

(1)Monthly Director Compensation: All of our independent directors serve on both the Audit Committee and the Compensation Committee, actively participating in discussions and decisions for these two key committees. As such, they receive a fixed monthly payment. The Chairperson, given their responsibilities and legal obligations, is granted both a fixed monthly salary and variable compensation(including performance bonuses and year-end bonuses). Regular directors do not receive any salary.

(2)Annual Director Remuneration: According to our company's Articles of Incorporation, if there is a profit for the year, up to 3% of it may be allocated as director remuneration. The Chairperson is authorized to propose the distribution ratio and amounts based on each director's involvement and contributions to company operations. To maintain their independence, independent directors do not participate in the allocation of director remuneration.

(3)Business Expenses:Travel allowances are paid to each director based on their actual attendance at meetings and are not linked to their responsibilities, risks, or time commitment.

(4)The company conducts regular evaluations of directors' compensation in accordance with the Board Performance Evaluation Guidelines. Key evaluation criteria and their respective weights are as follows, with all performance assessments and salary fairness reviewed by the Compensation Committee and the Board of Directors: (A) Operational performance: Results of individual director performance evaluations are considered when determining compensation, making up 40% of the total score. (B) Achievement and contribution: In addition to overall operational performance, the company also considers industry-related risks and future trends, as well as each director's achievement rate and contributions, to determine reasonable compensation, accounting for another 40%. (C) Industry standards: Compensation is benchmarked against peer companies and makes up the remaining 20% of the total score.

In summary, due to a decrease in the company's revenue growth rate and pre-tax profit growth rate compared to the previous year, board compensation was reduced by 2.22% from last year.

In nutshell, the Company has won the recognition of consumers through its prudent corporate culture, and gained social recognition and enhanced corporate competitiveness through its prudent and pragmatic style to achieve the goal of sustainable operation.

IV. Effects of external competition, legal environment, and overall business environment

(1) External competition

According to the Cathay Real Estate Index for Q4 2025, the market exhibited stable prices with increased volume compared to the previous quarter, and stable prices with decreased volume compared to the same period last year. Relative to Q3, asking prices, bargaining rates, and closing prices remained stable this quarter; meanwhile, project launches and sales rates saw moderate growth, with transaction volume increasing significantly. Driven by better-than-expected demand for emerging technologies such as AI bolstering export growth, the Central Bank has revised its 2025 GDP growth forecast upward to 7.31%. Regarding the housing market, the Central Bank maintained its seventh wave of selective credit control measures. Bank lending has returned to internal controls, shifting the policy direction from aggregate volume control to autonomous management. As the market has gradually adapted after one year of credit restrictions, a partial policy adjustment in early September 2025 led to a slight recovery in sidelined buyer interest. Furthermore, developers showed stronger momentum in project launches, partly due to the concentrated release of previously deferred projects toward the end of the year.

In response, the Company will develop tailored product planning and design based on the unique characteristics of each land site to create added value. This includes constructing green buildings that are ecological, energy-saving, waste-reducing, and health-oriented, while enhancing energy efficiency to create a comfortable, healthy, and eco-friendly living environment. Through excellent after-sales service, we aim to strengthen consumer trust, increase product demand, and build brand loyalty to achieve the goal of sustainable operations.

(2) Legal environment

The legal environment involves building laws and regulations, taxation and government policies, e.g. two-in-one tax policy for real estate, exemption from registration of areas occupied by eave rain cover, restrictions on capacity transfer, announced land price and flexible adjustment on the announced present value, and government's efforts in promoting the social housing guarantees and housing justice, charter and escrow policies to activate private vacant houses, housing subsidy resources to assist disadvantaged families, urban renewal to protect adequate housing rights, improvement of the real estate transaction system and construction of the professional leasing mechanism, actual price registration 2.0, and the policy of equalization of land rights. Changes in such laws and regulations will pose certain effects on the building industry's management. The Company will keep paying attention to any study on the laws and regulations to ensure shareholders' equity.

(3) Overall business environment

According to macroeconomic forecasts from the Taiwan Institute of Economic Research (TIER), while the global economy remains resilient, overall growth momentum in 2026 is expected to slow slightly or remain flat compared to 2025. Key factors influencing the economic outlook include the development progress of the AI industry, U.S. tariff policies, and overcapacity issues in China, with varying degrees of impact across major economies. Regarding the real estate sector, the number of building ownership transfers in the six major municipalities recorded a month-on-month increase of 25% in December 2025. This surge was attributed to a large volume of new property completions and year-end deed transfers, as well as the government's rolling policy adjustments in September, which revitalized buying momentum among first-time and upgrade buyers. However, a year-on-year decrease of 7.2% in transfers for the same month reflects that overall transaction volume remains at a low level. Looking ahead, following the Central Bank's decision to return mortgage controls to autonomous bank management, signs of easing in mortgage tightening may emerge. Nevertheless, with the seventh wave of selective credit control measures remaining in effect, the market outlook over the next six months will continue to be influenced by future policy directions, changes in developers' unsold inventory, and improvements in policies regarding the disposal of construction surplus soil and gravel. In the short term, the market is expected to remain in an adjustment phase.

V. Business goals

Looking ahead to the domestic economic performance in 2026, the growth momentum is expected to transition to a 'balanced warming of both domestic and foreign demand.' Private consumption is regaining momentum, and the previously seen divergence in industrial sentiment is showing improvement. Given that net foreign demand, investment, and private consumption have all performed better than originally expected, the latest forecast from the Taiwan Institute of Economic Research (TIER) projects Taiwan's GDP growth rate at 4.05% for 2026. The growth structure is anticipated to feature a steady expansion of foreign demand and investment, which in turn will drive a recovery in domestic consumption. Regarding domestic demand, as corporate profits remain stable, there is greater room for upward adjustments in salaries, bonuses, and dividends. Coupled with a steady labor market and the positive spillover effects from automotive policies and stock market wealth, private consumption momentum is expected to return to normalcy. On the investment front, driven by the continuous expansion of AI, high-performance computing (HPC), and cloud applications, major domestic tech firms are increasing capital expenditures. The semiconductor supply chain is also ramping up high-end capacity and R&D, working alongside the push for net-zero transition and government public infrastructure to maintain steady private investment momentum. In terms of trade, despite the slowdown in global trade growth, the order momentum for tech products remains strong as uncertainty in trade policy diminishes, sovereign AI infrastructure advances, and high-end semiconductor process capacity becomes available. Furthermore, the Taiwan-U.S. tariff agreements and China's 'anti-involution' (anti-excessive competition) policies are helping to alleviate cost and price competition pressures. These factors contribute to narrowing the previous industrial sentiment gap between AI and non-AI sectors.

The Company will continue to accurately collect and monitor market information, including regional development, regulatory changes, demographic shifts, and industry relocation. We aim to enhance our expertise in market analysis and continue to deeply cultivate the Taichung market, launching products tailored to the specific needs of various locations. In the medium to long term, we anticipate that increased price transparency will lead to a more robust real estate market; thus, projects with prime locations and stable investment returns will continue to earn market recognition. Through meticulous product planning and quality control, we are confident in our ability to generate exceptional operational performance and drive future growth. Guided by our professional architectural background and a philosophy of 'Integrity, Sincerity, and Sustainable Operations,' we strive to increase revenue and profitability for the Company.

The management team and all of the Company's colleagues would like to extend appreciation to all of you for your support and encouragement. Meanwhile, the Company looks forward to continuing receiving your guidance and suggestions in the coming year. The Company will still adhere to the consistent management philosophy and service to present and share with your remarkable business results.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Individual Financial Statements section of the report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinions, based on our audit results and the other external auditors' report.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters refer to the most important matters for the audit of 2025 individual financial statements of the Company based on our professional judgment. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the individual financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We judge that the following key audit matters should be communicated in the audit report:

Inventory valuation

Explanation

The Company's inventory primarily consists of available-for-sale real estate, land for construction and real estate construction in progress. For the related accounting policies and information, please refer to Notes 4(6) and 6(3) herein. In the Company's individual financial statements, the inventory is measured at the lower of cost or net realizable value. As the net realizable value might fluctuate significantly subject to the factors including market environment and government policies, that might result in the risk over the inventory cost higher than the net realizable value, it is identified as one of the key audit matters herein.

Audit procedures

The responsive procedures which we already executed to deal with said key audit matters are summarized as follows:

1. Evaluate the management's loss provision for inventory subject to the nature of inventory.
2. Evaluate the reasonableness of the allowance for inventory valuation loss and the management's hypotheses.
3. Review the accuracy of the Company's past allowance for inventory valuation loss, and compare it with that estimated in the current period to evaluate whether the estimation methods and hypotheses in the current period are adequate.
4. Verify the changes in the selling price and subsequent inventory market price adopted by the Company's management to evaluate the reasonableness of the net realizable value of inventory.
5. Estimate the recoverable amount based on the independent appraisal report issued by the expert, review the reasonableness of related hypotheses, and evaluate the real estate appraiser's qualifications and independence.
6. Consider whether the Company's disclosure of the information about the allowance for inventory valuation loss is adequate.

Recognition of revenue

Explanation

The Company's generates its revenue from operation of the available-for-sale real estate. For the related accounting policies and information, please refer to Notes 4(12) and 6(16) herein. The sales revenue refers to a major indicator to determine whether a company achieves the business and financial targets, as well as investors' expectations. The authenticity, whether the time of recognition is correct and whether it is complete are critical to the individual financial statements. Therefore, it is identified as one of the key audit matters.

Audit procedures

The responsive procedures which we already executed to deal with said key audit matters are summarized as follows:

1. Execute the test on control of the sales and collection cycle, and evaluate whether the accounting policy on recognition of revenue follows the related statements of financial accounting.
2. Execute the analytic procedures for sales revenue, cost and gross profit to evaluate whether there is any significant abnormality in the recognition of revenue.
3. Execute the cutoff test and conduct a random check on the sales contract, settlement information and real estate transfer registration documents of customers to evaluate whether there is any significant abnormality in the timing for recognition of revenue.
4. Analyze the changes in top 10 sales customers to understand and verify whether there are any significant changes and abnormal transactions.
5. Access the statement of sales revenue and sales discount, execute the substantive test, and conduct a random check on the sales contract and related documents executed with customers to evaluate whether there is any abnormality in the recognition of sales revenue and occurrence of sales discount.

6. Evaluate the adequacy of the disclosure of the Company's revenue recognition policy and other information.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Individual Financial Statements

The management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs), International Accounting Standards (IAS), IFRIC Interpretation, or SIC Interpretation endorsed and promulgated in effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of individual financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the individual financial statements, the management is responsible for assessing the ability of the Company to continue operations, disclosing related matters, as well as continuing operations with the basis of accounting, unless the management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no feasible alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance (including Audit Committee) are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of the Company.

External Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit on Individual Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the individual financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement in the individual financial statements when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the individual financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the individual financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the internal control of the Company.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of the management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern, based on the audit evidence obtained. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the individual financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure, and contents of the individual financial statements, including the related notes, and whether the individual financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence under the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be considered affecting our independence, and where applicable, other matters (including related safeguards).

From the matters communicated with the governance unit, we have determined key audit matters of 2025 individual financial statements of the Company. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

 - (2) Shareholders not registering to attend the affected virtual shareholders' meeting shall not attend the postponed or resumed session.
 - (3) In case of a hybrid shareholders' meeting, when the virtual meeting cannot be continued, if the total number of shares represented at the meeting, after deducting those represented by shareholders attending the virtual shareholders meeting online, meets the minimum legal requirement for a shareholder meeting, then the shareholders meeting shall continue. The shares represented by shareholders attending the virtual meeting online shall be counted towards the total number of shares represented by shareholders present at the meeting, and the shareholders attending the virtual meeting online shall be deemed abstaining from voting on all proposals on meeting agenda of that shareholders' meeting.
 - (4) Actions to be taken if the outcome of all proposals have been announced and extempore motion has not been carried out.
3. To convene a virtual shareholders' meeting, appropriate alternative measures available to shareholders with difficulties in attending a virtual shareholders' meeting shall be specified.

Article 7

If a shareholders' meeting is convened by the Board of Directors, the meeting shall be chaired by the Chairman. When the Chairman is on leave or for any reason unable to exercise the powers of the chairperson, the Chairman shall appoint one of the directors to act as chair. Where the Chairman does not make such a designation, the directors shall select from among themselves one person to serve as chairperson.

When a director serves as the chairperson, as referred to in the preceding paragraph, the director shall be one who has held that position for six months or more and who understands the financial and business conditions of the Company. The same shall be apply if the chairperson is the juristic-person director's representative.

of each functional committee on behalf of the committee. The attendance shall be recorded in the shareholders' meeting minutes.

For shareholders' meetings that are convened by any convener other than the Board of Directors, the convener shall chair the meeting. If there are two or more eligible conveners at the same time, one shall be appointed among themselves to chair the meeting.

The Company may appoint its attorneys, certified public accountants, or related persons retained by it to attend a shareholders' meeting in a non-voting capacity.

Article 8

The Company, beginning from the time it accepts shareholder attendance registrations, shall make an uninterrupted audio and video recording of the registration procedure, the proceedings of the general meeting, and the voting and vote counting procedures.

The recorded materials referred to in the preceding paragraph shall be retained for at least one year. If, however, a shareholder files a lawsuit pursuant to Article 189 of the Company Act, the ballots shall be retained until the conclusion of the litigation.

Where a virtual shareholders' meeting is held, the Company shall keep records of shareholder registration, sign-in, check-in, questions raised, votes cast and results of votes counted by the Company, and continuously audio and video record, without interruption, the proceedings of the virtual meeting from beginning to end.

Article 9

The number of shares in attendance shall be calculated according to the shares indicated by the attendance book and sign-in cards handed in, and the shares checked in on the virtual meeting platform, plus the number of shares whose voting rights are exercised by correspondence or electronically.

The Chairman shall call the meeting to order at the appointed meeting time, and announce the number of shareholders without voting right and shares of represented by present shareholders at the same time.

However, when the attending shareholders do not represent a majority of the total number of issued shares, the chair may announce a postponement, provided that no more than two such postponements, for a combined total of no more than one hour, may be made. If the quorum is not met after two postponements and the attending shareholders still represent less than one-thirds of the total number of issued shares, the chair shall declare the meeting adjourned. In the event of a virtual shareholders meeting, the Company shall also declare the meeting adjourned at the virtual meeting platform.

If the quorum is not met after two postponements as referred to in the preceding paragraph, but the attending shareholders represent one-thirds or more of the total number of issued shares, a tentative resolution may be adopted pursuant to Paragraph 1 of Article 175 of the Company Act; all shareholders shall be notified of the tentative resolution and another shareholders' meeting shall be convened within one month. In the event of a virtual shareholders meeting, shareholders intending to attend the meeting online shall re-register to the Company in accordance with Article 6.

When, prior to conclusion of the meeting, the attending shareholders represent a majority of the total number of issued shares, the chair may resubmit the tentative resolution for a vote by the shareholders' meeting pursuant to Article 174 of the Company Act.

Article 10

If the shareholders' meeting is convened by the Board of Directors, its agenda shall be set by the Board of Directors. Relevant motions (including extempore motions and amendments to an original motion) should be decided by voting. The meeting shall be conducted according to the scheduled agenda, and shall not be changed without the resolution of the shareholders' meeting.

If the shareholders' meeting is convened by a convening party other than the Board of Directors, the provisions of the preceding paragraph shall apply.

The person presiding the meeting shall not adjourn a meeting without as adopted by shareholders if the motions (including extraordinary motions) in the agenda arranged in the above two paragraphs shall not have been resolved. If the person presiding the meeting declares the adjournment of the meeting in a manner in violation of these rules, the other Board members shall help present shareholders elect a new person presiding the meeting to continue the proceedings of the meeting by a resolution representing the majority of the shares represented at the meeting.

The chairperson shall allow ample opportunity during the meeting for explanation and discussion of proposals and of amendments or special motions put forward by the shareholders. When the chairperson is of the opinion that a proposal has been discussed sufficiently to put it to a vote, the chairperson may announce the discussion closed, call for a vote, and schedule sufficient time for voting.

Article 11

Before speaking, an attending shareholder must specify on a speaker's slip the subject of the speech, his/her shareholder account number (or attendance pass number), and account name. The order in which shareholders speak will be set by the chairperson.

A shareholder in attendance who has submitted a speaker's slip but does not actually speak shall be deemed to have not spoken. When the contents of the speech do not correspond to the subject given on the speaker's slip, the spoken contents shall prevail.

Except with the consent of the chairperson, a shareholder may not speak more than twice on the same proposal, and a single speech may not exceed 5 minutes. Notwithstanding, if the shareholder's speech violates the requirements or exceeds the scope of the agenda item, the chairperson may terminate the speech.

When an attending shareholder is speaking, other shareholders may not speak or interrupt unless they have sought and obtained the consent of the chairperson and the shareholder that has the floor. The chairperson shall stop any violation.

When a juristic person shareholder appoints two or more representatives to attend a shareholders' meeting, only one of the representatives so appointed may speak on the same proposal.

After an attending shareholder has spoken, the chairperson may respond in person or direct relevant personnel to respond.

Where a virtual shareholders' meeting is convened, shareholders attending the virtual meeting online may raise questions in writing at the virtual meeting platform from the time when the chairperson declares the meeting open until the chairperson declares the meeting adjourned. No more than two questions for the same proposal may be raised. Each question shall contain no more than 200 words. The regulations in Articles 1~5 do not apply.

As long as questions so raised in accordance with the preceding paragraph do not violate the requirements or exceed the scope of the agenda item, it is advisable the questions be disclosed to the public at the virtual meeting platform.

Article 12

Voting at a shareholders' meeting shall be calculated based on numbers of shares.

The number of shares for which voting rights may not be exercised under the preceding paragraph shall not be calculated as part of the voting rights represented by attending shareholders.

When a shareholder is an interested party in relation to an agenda item, and there is the likelihood that such a relationship would prejudice the interests of the Company, that shareholder may not vote on that item, and may not exercise voting rights as proxy for any other shareholder.

The number of shares for which voting rights may not be exercised under the preceding paragraph shall not be calculated as part of the voting rights represented by attending shareholders.

With the exception of a trust enterprise or a shareholder services agent approved by the competent securities authority, when one person is concurrently appointed as proxy by two or more shareholders, the voting rights represented by that proxy may not exceed three percent of the voting rights represented by the total number of issued shares. If that percentage is exceeded, the voting rights in excess of that percentage shall not be included in the calculation.

Article 13

A shareholder shall be entitled to one vote for each share held, except when the shares are restricted shares or are deemed non-voting shares under Paragraph 2, Article 179 of the Company Act.

When the Company holds a shareholders' meeting, it shall adopt exercise of voting rights by electronic means and may adopt exercise of voting rights by correspondence. When voting rights are exercised by correspondence or electronic means, the method of exercise shall be specified in the general meeting notice. A shareholder exercising voting rights by correspondence or electronic means will be deemed to have attended the meeting in person, but to have waived his/her rights with respect to the special motions and amendments to original proposals of that meeting. Therefore, it is advisable that the Company avoid the submission of extempore motions and amendments to original proposals.

A shareholder intending to exercise voting rights by correspondence or electronic means under the preceding paragraph shall deliver a written declaration of intent to the Company before two days before the date of the general meeting. When duplicate declarations of intent are delivered, the one received earliest shall prevail, except when a declaration is made to cancel the earlier declaration of intent.

After a shareholder has exercised voting rights by correspondence or electronic means, in the event the shareholder intends to attend the shareholders' meeting in person or a virtual shareholders' meeting, a written declaration of intent to retract the voting rights already exercised under the preceding paragraph shall be made known to the Company, by the same means by which the voting rights were exercised, before two days before the date of the shareholders' meeting. If the notice of retraction is submitted after that time, the voting rights already exercised by correspondence or electronic means shall prevail. When a shareholder has exercised voting rights both by correspondence or electronic means and by appointing a proxy to attend a general meeting, the voting rights exercised by the proxy in the meeting shall prevail.

Except as otherwise provided in the Company Act and in the Company's Articles of Incorporation, the passage of a proposal shall require an affirmative vote of a majority of the voting rights represented by the attending shareholders. At the time of a vote, the chairperson or a person designated by the chairperson shall first announce the total number of voting rights represented by the attending shareholders, followed by a poll of each shareholder. After the conclusion of the meeting, on the same day it is held, the results, based on the numbers of votes for and against and the number of abstentions, shall be entered into the MOPS.

When there is an amendment or an alternative to a proposal, the chairperson shall present the amended or alternative proposal together with the original proposal and decide the order in which they will be put to a vote. When any one among them is passed, the other proposals will then be deemed rejected, and no further voting shall be required.

The chairperson will appoint a ballot examiner and a ballot counter, provided that the ballot examiner must be a shareholder.

Vote counting for shareholders' meeting proposals or elections shall be conducted in public at the place of the shareholders' meeting. Immediately after vote counting has been completed, the results of the voting, including the statistical tallies of the numbers of votes, shall be announced on-site at the meeting, and a record made of the vote.

When the Company convenes a virtual shareholders' meeting, after the chairperson declares the meeting open, shareholders attending the meeting online shall cast votes on proposals and elections on the virtual meeting platform before the chairperson announces the voting session ends, or will be deemed abstained from voting.

In the event of a virtual shareholders' meeting, votes shall be counted at once after the chairperson announces the voting session ends, and results of votes and elections shall be announced immediately.

When the Company convenes a hybrid shareholders' meeting, if shareholders who have registered to attend the meeting online in accordance with Article 6 decide to attend the physical shareholders' meeting in person, they shall revoke their registration two days before the shareholders meeting in the same manner as they registered. If their registration is not revoked within the time limit, they may only attend the shareholders' meeting online.

When shareholders exercise voting rights by correspondence or electronic means, unless they have withdrawn the declaration of intent and attended the shareholders' meeting online, except for extraordinary motions, they will not exercise voting rights on the original proposals or make any amendments to the original proposals or exercise voting rights on amendments to the original proposal.

Article 14

When the shareholders' meeting elects directors, it shall proceed in accordance with the related election regulations established by the Company, and shall announce the results of the election on the spot.

The ballots for the election items mentioned in the preceding paragraph shall be sealed and signed by the monitoring personnel and then properly kept for at least one year. If, however, a shareholder files a lawsuit pursuant to Article 189 of the Company Act, the ballots shall be retained until the conclusion of the litigation.

Article 15

Resolutions adopted by an annual general meeting shall be recorded in the minutes of the meeting, which shall be affixed with the signature or seal of the chairperson of the meeting and shall be distributed to all shareholders of the Company within twenty days after the close of the meeting. The meeting minutes may be produced and distributed in electronic form.

The Company may distribute the meeting minutes referred to in the preceding paragraph by means of a public announcement made through the MOPS.

The meeting minutes shall accurately record the year, month, day, and place of the meeting, the chairperson's full name, the methods by which resolutions were adopted, and a summary of the deliberations and their voting results (including the number of voting rights), and disclose the election results in the event of an election of directors. The minutes shall be retained for the duration of the existence of the Company.

Where a virtual shareholders' meeting is convened, in addition to the particulars to be included in the meeting minutes as described in the preceding paragraph, the start time and end time of the shareholders meeting, how the meeting is convened, the chair's and secretary's name, and actions to be taken in the event of disruption to the virtual meeting platform or participation in the meeting online due to natural disasters, accidents or other force majeure events, and how issues are dealt with shall also be included in the minutes.

When convening a virtual shareholders' meeting, other than compliance with the requirements in the preceding paragraph, the Company shall specify in the meeting minutes alternative measures available to shareholders with difficulties in attending the virtual shareholders' meeting.

Article 16
